

Marlinton Messenger

A NEWSPAPER DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF POCOHONTAS COUNTY

MARLINTON, WEST VIRGINIA, DECEMBER 7, 1901

W. VA. AT JAMESTOWN

Historical and Educational Exhibits from the State to be Made.

Hon. Virgil A. Lewis, state historian, and Thomas C. Miller have been at Norfolk, Va., where they went to consult with the Jamestown exposition authorities in regard to the historical and educational exhibits at the exposition.

Mr. Miller will push to completion the preparation of the educational exhibit, while Prof. Lewis is preparing for an historical exhibit that will be extremely interesting and attractive as well as instructive.

Speaking of conditions at Jamestown Prof. Lewis says: "We spent two days on the exposition grounds and were not only surprised, but astonished at the work done. It is safe to say the condi-

WITH GENERAL GRANT

One Who Slept With Him Recalls the Great
Liberator's Condition

Major Samuel C. Oliver, a member of the Cavalry Legion, was in a room with him. At the other night, and among other stories related this one of General Grant to a select few gathered around the open fire. The question, "Did you ever meet General Grant?" brought the reply, "I remember well the first time I ever talked with Grant. It was at Vie's bar, and I was a mere boy then, though I had seen many months of service, as I went straight from old Miami University when the call came."

"I had orders to go to Grant's headquarters on business pertaining to the commissary department at the end of this after the Ad-

PRIVATE CAR

Of President Spencer, of Southern Railway Wreck and the President Killed.

Heavy persons, including General Spencer, president of the Southern Railway company, were killed at 4:15 o'clock on Thursday morning in a wreck caused by a rear end collision between two southbound passenger trains near Lawyer, Va., a station twelve miles south of Lynchburg, on the Southern. Some of the dead, including Mr. Spencer, were buried almost beyond recognition. Seven people were injured. The cause of the wreck, now under investigation, is not yet established, but the responsibility is apportioned to rest on the engineer of the blue train at Langhorne, the die-up, and a switch which failed for by the police

Carpets
 Druggists
 Rugs
 Floor Oil Cloth
 Linoleum
 Magazine Racks
 Foot Stools
 Book Cases
 Desks
 Chairs
 Rockers
 Organs
 Pianos
 Sewing Machines
 Heating Stoves
 Ranges

IN YOUR HOME

FURNITURE @.

CLOTHES AND FURNITURE
 REPAIRED AND RESTORED

PROFESSIONAL CARDS

ATTORNEYS

W. H. COOPER
 COOPER & COOPER
 ATTORNEYS
 100 W. Main Street
 BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

Mrs. Cooper
 Mrs. Cooper

Mrs. Cooper
 Mrs. Cooper

COOPER

ANOTHER MURDER

The Ride to Agon the Scene of a
Shooting Scene

West was informed here last Tuesday morning of another murder in the State of Pennsylvania, the victim being Isaac Arbogast, a native and a resident of that community. The murderer was committed Monday evening and the murderer himself shot dead at the hands of an unknown by night. Presently Attorney Hill went to the scene of the murder Tuesday and an inquest was held to name A. M. Oliver, from whom he gleaned the following account of the murder.

Arbogast was married but had no children. Two brothers and a sister have a brother, a son of about twenty, a son of twenty-one, a son of twenty-four, a son of twenty-eight, and a son of thirty. Arbogast's son is his namesake. He was the only son left to his parents, who were both dead. He is a widow, and a widow with three sons and two daughters, together with a son and daughter, the son being the surviving of the sons. On Monday evening Arthur went to the first in company with Key, his son, a neighbor, and the arrival they broke into Lambert's barrel of molasses. Lambert came home about 11 o'clock and Arthur said, "We have got into your molasses, what do you think about it?" "I don't care if it is very dirty, well," said Lambert. "Well," said Arbogast, "you can take it or let Lambert just as you like it— please." The quarrel kept up for some time and Arbogast was soon in a state of almost bodily intoxication.

Lambert started to leave the house and in going out the door took his shotgun with him. McLean had to prevent Arbogast from following him but he succeeded in doing so. There

DEATHS

New Lawyer Doctor to the Folks at the 125

Another big raid was made on the illicit stills at the Levee Tuesday night. It last went on for a result one of the men, John J. Morris, "Honest John" another who refused to die in Leavenworth, was captured in the county jail. The raid was made by Fred G. Clegg, Pat and Ed Fagan and S. J. Blackman. A large number of weapons were found in the three places visited and a quantity of liquor and gambling property which was captured.

"Smithy" and the unknown to him put up a game fight when confronted by the officers, who were aided by a number of their friends. It was only after Blackman got out his gun and passed a bullet through the forehead of one of the men that the arrest could be made.

Church Wrenright was arrested about the same time by Deputy Sheriff W. H. Clegg. He was sentenced to 30 days in the Pennsylvania jail by Judge Dayton.

The other prisoners mentioned were brought to Martinburg on an accusation Thanksgiving day before Captain Bird who placed under $1,000 bond which was not forthcoming and they were placed in jail. Grant Hulterman, another person arrested on the same charge, was released on bail. In the opinion of all who know anything at all about "Honest John" and the unknown man that they are a desperate pair and that they have a hold on their heads by taking the raid Clegg failed to turn over the warrant to Blackman and on this technicality the warrant for them on the charge of violating was all discontinued.

FALL TERM 1901.

We do not know whether far and throughout the country he made a close inspection of the young orchards to ascertain the extent of the damage done by the frost, but in the neighborhood

MISCELLANEOUS

Both of the men are young, possibly not over 35 years of age and Lambert has a pretty fair reputation.

Read Smart

For the 14-year-old son of Barrett Miller was with a friend in a accident on Monday afternoon. He had started hunting and in crossing a rail road was hit. He lay by the road with the ball resting on a rail.

PLANT OUT

away with and for what he had in his heart. I expect the that toward Durden and caught at Durrow the next morning by Sergeant White of the line, who was on the hunt for him.
He claimed that he was coming to Durden to give himself up and put up the plan of self defense.
At the preliminary examination
he was sent to jail for await action of the grand jury.

Both of the men are young, possibly not over 28 years of age, and Lambert has a pretty bad reputation.

Read the following:

Roy the 14-year-old son of Everett Miller met with a most unusual accident on Monday afternoon. He had started hunting, and on crossing a tall fence was holding his gun by the muzzle with the butt resting on a tall tree. The gun slipped striking the fence which caused the gun to explode and the entire charge of shot tore through his left hand. It was found necessary to amputate the hand at the wrist which was done by Dr. Hart and by J. W. Hatch.

The boy was with another boy, and a previous member of the gang, and had been followed by a woman. This was the first other boy who had been followed by a woman.
The boy was followed by a woman, and the boy was followed by a woman.

1990-1991

Ollie Lewis, a three-year-old boy from Brown's hardware store in Point Pleasant, met with a sudden and almost fatal accident. While playing at noon in white front of his house on the river in Ohio, weapon used was a sharp-pointed gun, and it is supposed that power ammunition was used by the boy. It is known that a gun had been found in the basement of the house, but the gun itself was not found. The boy was shot through the heart and died within a few minutes.

SLAVEN, DANES, Finns,

MAJESTIC

ANOTHER MURDER

The Banks Is Again the Scene of a Shooting Scare.

Word was received here last Tuesday morning of another murder in the "Banks" of Pocahontas county, the victim being Isaac Arbogast, Jr., a native and a resident of that community. The murder was committed Monday evening and the murderer himself escaped death at the hands of an hate-father by flight. Prosecuting Attorney Hill went to the scene of the murder Tuesday morning and an inquest was held by Justice A. M. Oliver. From the evidence we glean the following account of the murderer.

Arbogast was married but had lost his wife sometime before and on his leaving Station Lambert, a young man of that community, had taken up his residence at the Arbogast home. Noticing however that the young man had made a barrel of matheglia, an intoxicating drink made by fermenting honey and water. Upon Arbogast's return to his home, after several months' absence, he took no notice of the attention paid to his wife by Lambert (for such a trivial matter is little thought of in the "Banks" country) and the three lived together in comparative peace and happiness until the evening of the murder. On Monday evening Arbogast went home first in company with Kay Mullenax, a neighbor, and on their arrival they broke into Lambert's barrel of matheglia. Lambert came home shortly after and Arbogast said, "We have got into your matheglia, what do you think about it?" "I don't like it very d— well," replied Lambert. "Well," said Arbogast, "you can like it or let it alone just as you d— please." The quarrel kept up for some time and Arbogast was soon in a state of almost beastly intoxication. Lambert started to leave the house and in going out the

MURKIN'S RAID

New Liquid Death Is the Toll of the

Inv.

Another big raid was made on the illicit retailers at Dunlevie Tuesday night of last week and as a result one crusty old friend Johnny McGraw, "Smithy" and another who refuses to disclose his identity are languishing in the county jail. The raid was made by Lincoln Cochran, Pat and Ed Simmons and S. T. Rockman. A large number of whiskey was found in the three places raided and a quantity of liquor and gambling paraphernalia was captured.

"Smithy" and the unknown retailer put up a game fight when confronted by the officers, and were aided by a number of their friends. It was only after Rockman got out his gun and plowed a furrow through the forehead of one of the mob that the arrest could be made.

Church Wayright was arrested about the same time by Deputy Marshal Dan Cunningham. He was sent out to 30 days in the Pocahontas jail by Judge Dayton.

The other prisoners mentioned were brought to Huntington and on examination Thanksgiving day before Squint Bird was placed under $1,000 bond which was not forthcoming and they were placed in jail. Grant Halterman, another person arrested on the same charge, was released on bail. It is the opinion of all who know anything at all about "Smithy" and the unknown man that they are a desperate pair and that they bear a curse set on their heads. In making the raid Cochran failed to turn over the warrants to Rockman and on this technicality the warrant for them on the charge of assaulting an officer was dismissed.

Fresh Herbs Billed.

We do not know whether farmers throughout the county have made a close inspection of the orchards to ascertain the

W. VA. AT JAMESTOWN

Historical and Educational Field of the State in the State

Hon. Virgil A. Lewis, attorney, and Thomas F. Miller, born at Norfolk, Va., where he went to consult with the town exposition authorities regard to the historical and educational exhibits at the exposition.

Mr. Miller will push to completion the preparation of educational exhibit while Dr. Lewis is preparing for an historical exhibit that will be extremely interesting and attractive and instructive.

Speaking of conditions at Jamestown Prof. Lewis says he spent two days on the experimental grounds and were not only impressed, but astonished at the same. It is safe to say that there are now far in advance of what they were in St. Louis. Dismember preceding the opening of the Louisiana Purchase exposition.

The grounds are situated a mile from the corner of the city of Norfolk and four miles from Old Point Comfort, this being directly across Hampton Roads the best harbor in the world. It is assigned to West Virginia one of the last in the entire position grounds. The water Willaby Bay, a small inlet Hampton Roads are not 100 feet distant from the West Virginia building, and spread out on each hand, are the waters of Chesapeake Bay, Hampton Roads, the great estuary of the lower James, so that the shores bay are seen only in dim outline.

"The building adjoining that West Virginia is that of Georgia and then of Ohio, Missouri, Maryland, Virginia, Pennsylvania and other states in order along the shore."

"I succeeded," said Prof. Lewis when asked how the big original exhibit would be placed in the history building, "in getting space in a portion of the